About Asylos	11

Dear reader,

This note was researched, written and edited by Asylos, a pan-European network of volunteers providing free-of-charge research for lawyers helping asylum seekers with their claim.

Everyone engaged in Asylos believes that asylum matters and and so do fair decisions, based on the best available knowledge. We believe that your work as a lawyer dealing with such cases is so important that it is a good thing to assist you for free - and we do that in our spare time.

Please help us track the impact of our work. It is our best reward and it helps us reward our funders:

If you are reading this note, using any part of it to inform your case or possibly submitting it to court, you:

1. go to <http://asylos.eu/give-feedback>
2. insert the case reference number #{referenceNumber} and press submit.

If you want to, you can even leave a message for the volunteers who worked on the research.

Many thanks,

Your Asylos Team

Asylos is a network of volunteers providing research assistance to lawyers who represent refugees. Founded in 2010, it was created to respond to a dysfunctional asylum system in Europe that fails to live up to its own legal and ethical standards. Asylos provides case-related information to lawyers in countries where legal aid is non-existent or does not cover the cost of researching up-to-date evidence documenting rights violations or persecution in specific cases. The research concerns conditions in the claimant's country of origin or other facts pertinent to an individual case. For more information, please visit our website www.asylos.eu.

About this note

This document has been produced by Asylos in response to specific questions posed by an asylum lawyer working on a claim. It is based on publicly accessible written sources as well as consultations with relevant experts. All translations provided in the research note are written by Asylos researchers, unless specified otherwise. This document does not pretend to be exhaustive. Asylum lawyers may use the information in this report and submit the report in court, however neither this document nor excerpts of it may be published online without authorisation from Asylos.
